

Enclosed is a $200 contribution for Museums Of Minnesota. We watched the DVD of your Back On The Mississippi show just before we headed out to Kansas City. It inspired us to change our return route and follow the Mississippi as much as possible. Except for one small turn out of Guttenberg, Iowa, we stayed on the river route to Hastings, stopping in Davenport for the night on Wednesday. In between we stopped at Effigy Mounds and took a good hike on the upper side. The vistas in some places are just amazing! We tried to snap a picture here and there, but you really can't capture what it's like in a photo. Traveling even part of the river starts to give you a sense of how big it is and how it's a part of so many communities. So thanks for the inspiration! It was an exceptional area for a small vacation on the way home. I look forward to seeing the museums you show on Museums Of Minnesota. I'm sure they'll inspire future trips.
